

The Beatrice Sartori Award

A Prize given by the Independent Critics present at the 74th Cannes Film Festival

9th Edition

The Prize is awarded to

“Buñuel A Surrealist Filmmaker” By Javier Espada

Javier Espada's film is an example of a personal documentary, where his own anthropological background coincides with that of Luis Buñuel, and we discover that surrealism also stems from the emotions and theatricality of the sacred rituals experienced by the great Aragonese filmmaker.

The Jury was presided over by Rüdiger Suchsland (Germany), aided by Paolo De Cesare (Italia), Prapti Mittal (India), Adriana Gonzales (Francia)
